

PRO ENGINEERING INC.

Large Enough to Serve, Small Enough to Care
Consulting Mechanical Engineers

Registered in 30 + states including: South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wyoming

COMPANY HISTORY

Pro Engineering Inc. has been in business for over eighteen years and has completed projects in 30 different states. Our experience includes geothermal heat pump systems for commercial and residential buildings. We can connect your building to the earth for maximum efficiency!

"We like to listen to the building owner and include his input into our design of his building. All owners know what they want and do not want. We must understand what they dislike and make sure our design eliminates their dislikes."

SYSTEMS YOU CAN COUNT ON!

Mechanical Services:

Include heating and cooling systems design centered around rooftop single zone and VAV, furnace and condensing unit, dehumidification system, natatorium ventilation and geothermal heat pump system. System capacity from 5 ton to 100 tons and up.

Plumbing Service:

Include design of waste and vent systems, gas piping and hydronic system design.

Electrical Services:

We have access to electrical services through a working relationship with electrical engineers in the professional community.

WHY HIRE A PROFESSIONAL?

Building Renovation:

What mechanical system is appropriate?
What parts of the existing system needs to be replaced?
What part of the existing system can be retained?

New Building:

What system best fits the new building?
What system provides the most cost effective installation?
What system will provide the comfort desired?
